

for a sustainable future

Here are some facts

- 1 The Earth has only finite resources for humans – as well as the species with whom we share it – and only a finite capacity to process our waste
- 2 Even with our technological advances, the size of the population is already past the level that the planet can continue to sustain
- 3 Nationally and globally, the birth rate is currently greater than the death rate, which means that every day that goes by we are pushing the planet further past its carrying capacity

The flowchart below will help you decide the best course of action...

Find out more at www.populationmatters.org